Please use caution and common sense when using trails like the Greenbelt Walkway and the Spring Point Shoreway. Some pavement may be uneven, and bicyclists and pedestrians need to be careful of each other. Neither the City of South Portland nor the South Portland Land Trust are responsible for accidents or injury that may occur on its trails. Enjoy the trails, but use them at your own risk. Thank you.

South Portland Land Trust is a nonprofit organization committed to linking neighborhoods and improving quality of life in South Portland through expanding the city's trail network, conserving open space, and educating the public on issues related to conservation. It holds eighteen properties and easements within the City of South Portland to preserve natural habitat, trail access, and open space for public enjoyment.
